BIDMYCRIB, LLC RAISES ANOTHER ROUND OF FUNDING FROM INVESTORS

We've been amazed at the positive response we've received from commercial retail customers throughout the United States...they have definitely found value in our technology to assist them in managing their facility maintenance projects

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP, OH (May 31, 2009) – BIDMYCRIB, LLC announced today they have secured another round of funding from investors. This is the third time they have raised capital since their inception in November 2007. The funding deal will support the expansion of their commercial maintenance entity, which was launched earlier in the year. “We’re very grateful to be able to secure capital during such a tough economic environment,” said Morgan C. Jones, CEO.

While the residential housing market continues to be the company’s main focus, the commercial retail market has opened their doors and invited the BidMyCrib® bidding technology into their lives. “We’ve been amazed at the positive response we’ve received from commercial retail businesses throughout the United States; they have definitely found value in our technology to assist them in managing their facilities maintenance projects, and we’re happy about our relationships with customers like Walmart, Target, Rite Aid, Best Buy, Brooks Brothers, and many other public and private companies,” states Jones.
